STRUCTURE AND AIMS OF THE COURSE

The ‘Accademia del Belcanto “Rodolfo Celletti”’ in Martina Franca is promoted and organised by the ‘Fondazione Paolo Grassi’, in collaboration with the Festival della Valle d’Itria. It was set up in 2010 to provide young lyrical singers with a highly specific training on the various aspects of vocal technique and performance of the Italian Belcanto repertoire (from Monteverdi to proto-Romanticism), comprising of analysis and practice of the various styles of Western musical theatre, including many expressions of modernity. The course also includes various practical workshops, applied to specific Belcanto techniques and aesthetics: from seventeenth-century recitar cantando to expressions of the Apulian and Neapolitan school; from coloratura techniques to variations in early nineteenth-century Italian Belcanto tradition. During the 2013 edition of the Festival della Valle d’Itria, students will have the opportunity of gaining specific practical experience, thus enriching their training. They will be guided by great supervisors, prominent interpreters and concert-masters. Particular importance will also be given to physical and acting training, and to correct, accurate Italian diction – necessary characteristics for today’s ‘acting singers’ engaged in conveying the essential theatrical dimension of opera.

Starting from 2013, the Academy’s academic scheme also includes a section specialising in an in-depth analysis of Baroque Belcanto, with prestigious master-classes and valuable one-to-one lessons for young performers with a particular interest in, and inclination towards, this kind of repertoire. This specific, personalised course is enriched with opportunities for practical work experiences during the 2013 edition of the Festival.

REQUIREMENTS AND ENROLLMENT

Places for this course are limited; therefore admission is subject to selection procedures.

The selection of the candidates will be carried out by the Judging Panel (presided by the Director of the Academy) on the basis of the shown qualifications and after a public audition which will be held in Martina Franca at the 'Fondazione "Paolo Grassi"', on the first day of the preparatory session (6th April 2013).

The details of the convocation for the audition will be communicated directly to the candidates.

The Artistic Director has the right to admit to the courses singers who, during ex-tempore competitions or auditions, have shown artistic merit and a particular predisposition towards the Belcanto repertoire.

There are up to twenty-five places available for the course.

The students who have not passed the selection can still attend training activities as listeners, and they may take the place of selected students in case any should drop out.

Upon admission to the course, non-EU candidates must comply with requisites of the current legislation, as failing to do so may ultimately result in exclusion from the course.

Precedence will be given to candidates possessing:

- a State-recognised Conservatoire or Musical Institution diploma, or level I or II academic diploma issued by one of the above-mentioned Musical Institutions;
- classification in the first three places in the final classifications in internationally-renowned vocal competitions;
- good knowledge of a foreign language (English, French, German) and, for foreign candidates, of Italian;
- professional experience in the field of opera theatre, through participation in artistically significant operas and concerts, which will be evaluated by the judging panel. The judges' selection and decision is final.

The selection is open to applicants who by the 31st December 2013 will be no older than 32 year old (for sopranos/tenors) and 35 years old (for contraltos/baritones/basses). Exceptions due to particular merit may apply.

For the audition, candidates should prepare two operatic arias including recitative and cabaletta (when applicable) in the original key; one of which one must come from early-nineteenth-century Italian Operatic Repertoire. The examining Committee has the right to choose whether to listen to the whole or only part of the programme indicated in the application. A medium-difficulty first-sight music reading may also be requested.
